

A black and white line drawing of a lighthouse on a rocky pier extending into the sea. The lighthouse is a tapered tower with a lantern room at the top, surrounded by a gallery. It has several small arched windows. The pier is made of large, flat stones. The sea is calm, and the sky has a few clouds and a single bird flying.